

Janesville Daily Gazette

VOLUME 33 JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1890. NUMBER 275

TURMOIL IN THE HOUSE.

The Consideration of the West Virginia Contested Election Case Creates a Sensation.

A HOT PARTISAN DEBATE PARTICIPATED.

Speaker Reed's Railing the Occasion for Great Commotion Among the Representatives—Business in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Mr. Payson (Ill.), from the committee on public lands, reported the bill for the creation of three additional land districts in Colorado. The bill was passed, yeas 153, nays 98.

Mr. Duffell (Pa.) called up the election case of Smith versus Jackson from the Fourth West Virginia district. Mr. Crisp (Ga.) raised the question of consideration.

On this vote the Democrats, with three exceptions (Messrs. Buckwalter, Covert and Cowley), refrained from voting. While the clerk was calling the roll the Speaker was carefully noting the names of those Democrats who were present and not voting. Before the announcement of the vote, Mr. Rogers of Arkansas (who had inadvertently voted in the affirmative) decided to withdraw his vote, but he was met with a storm of objections from the Republican side. Mr. Rogers endeavored to secure a ruling from the Speaker on the question in order that he might enter an appeal, but the Speaker declined to rule.

Upon the question of considering the Smith vs. Jackson election case, the Democrats generally refused to vote, but the Speaker, however, counted as present the members refusing to vote and declared a quorum present. The House was immediately in great turmoil, but quiet was at length restored, and the Speaker made a long statement in justification of his course, quoting precedents to maintain the correctness of his position.

Mr. Crisp appealed from the decision of the chair, and Mr. Rowell, of Illinois, moved to table that motion. Mr. Crisp demanded to be heard in answer to the Speaker, but the latter recognized Mr. Rowell instead, whereupon Mr. Crisp denounced his conduct as unfair and unlawful. He appealed to the fairness of the Speaker, but the Speaker, in reply, told him to be seated. Mr. Crisp then yielded for a moment to Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, who stated that he was paired with Mr. Rockwell, of Massachusetts, and that the Speaker's action in recording him as absent under the circumstances was fallacious and wrong.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

Mr. Crisp then proceeded to make a reply to the Speaker's argument. He said that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter. He quoted from the House records to show that the Speaker's action was a violation of the House rules, and that the House should take action on the matter.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Gertrude Stoddard Entertained a Number of Friends Last Evening.

Yesterday was the sixteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Gertrude Stoddard, and the occasion was duly celebrated yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stoddard, 205 North Bluff street. By special invitation a large number of Miss Gertrude's young friends assembled at her home in the afternoon, and passed several happy hours in social amusements. Refreshments were served, and the girls had a joyous time. Miss Gertrude was the recipient of many handsome tokens from her friends, evidence of their esteem and reminders of the happy occasion which called them together.

SAN BLAS INDIANS.

Their Country Annexed to the United States—Defying the Colombians.

New York, Jan. 30.—The Indians of the San Blas coast of Colombia are defying the Colombian government. They have been supplied with merchandise in exchange for coconuts by American traders. They have been supplied with merchandise in exchange for coconuts by American traders. They have been supplied with merchandise in exchange for coconuts by American traders.

The recent seizure of American vessels laden with goods for them and the action of the Colombian government and the La Popa decided to become at once American citizens. Soon after the La Popa appeared off the coast of the San Blas Indians, the Colombian commander in the La Popa decided to become at once American citizens. Soon after the La Popa appeared off the coast of the San Blas Indians, the Colombian commander in the La Popa decided to become at once American citizens.

There are said to be 30,000 Indians in the San Blas district and the attempt by the Colombian government to subvert them would be fraught with great expense and difficulty. They are a brave and hardy race.

THE JACKSONVILLE ASYLUM. The Beating of Blind Boys Discouraged.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Jan. 30.—The board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign. The board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

On the question of pupils' correspondence, a rule has been adopted permitting unrestricted correspondence between pupils and their parents or guardians on both sides, but correspondence between pupils and their parents or guardians shall be subject to the inspection of the superintendent. It is disapproved and shall be resorted to only when the superintendent is satisfied that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

Regarding food: It appearing that the board of trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Blind here and practically all the charges recently formulated and outlined certain needed reforms and permitted Supervisor Hinchee to resign.

THEY ARE SENTENCED.

Clarence Dally, Byron Taylor, and Bert Burnett go to Waukesha until of Age.

GEORGE GIFFORD GETS SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL.

They Confess Robbing Fred Felt's Tailor Shop and G. A. Lanphier's Hardware Store.

Four sorry looking young men stood up before Judge Patterson in the municipal court yesterday afternoon. Three of them were charged with burglary. They were Bert Burnett, Clarence Dally, and Byron Backus, known in the city as Byron Taylor. The fourth was George Gifford, charged with receiving stolen goods. After the quartette had pleaded guilty to the charge, young Backus took the stand, and related the particulars of the robbery substantially the same as was published in last night's Gazette. Judge Patterson then sentenced Burnett, Dally and Backus to Waukesha until they attained their majority and fined George Gifford forty dollars and in default he will be lodged in jail for sixty days, as it appears Gifford did not go into the store but met the other boys on his way home, and they gave him some of the stolen goods. Burnett, Taylor and Dally were taken to Waukesha this noon, while Gifford again to serve his sentence this morning. Byron Backus was taken by Mr. T. R. Taylor to live with him when six years of age. He is an orphan and has not shown himself worthy of the kindness shown him by Mr. Taylor. He has no claims to the name of Taylor as Mr. Taylor had not adopted him.

Burnett, Dally and Backus have made confessions, implicating themselves in other burglaries besides that of the Fountain cigar store. Some time ago Fred Felt's tailor shop was gone through and a quantity of jewelry and silk millinery, etc., were stolen. Later on the hardware store of G. A. Lanphier was burglarized, but that was kept quiet in hope of getting some trace of the robbers. While searching Gifford's satchel at the home of T. R. Taylor, with whom Gifford boarded, Marshal Hogan found a box of jewelry and a revolver, and also found two more revolvers concealed about the room. When confronted with these articles Gifford said that the jewelry belonged to Backus, and that the revolvers, etc., were given to him by Burnett. Marshal Hogan questioned Burnett about them, and he denied all knowledge of the thing, but finally admitted that it was true, and confessed that he and Backus had burglarized the shop of Fred Felt, making an entrance after the evening. They got in through a rear window which was unlocked, and after getting what they wanted, went out through the back door, leaving it open. He also confessed burglarizing J. A. Lanphier's hardware store, with the assistance of Dally. He said that they first tried to get in through the back way, but being unable to do so, went down to J. L. Burnett's saloon and procured an angle bar and bored out the lock of the door. They secured two revolvers and twenty-one knives, of which Backus and Dally disposed of fourteen in Racine. The balance of the plunder was hidden under Burnett's saloon. Reed and Hennessey's razors were secured in the same place, and that was the reason that Burnett did not tell Marshal Hogan where the razors were, as that would lead to the discovery of the other crime. Last evening Marshal Hogan discovered a pack of cards and some poker chips in Smith & Pierce's law office, where young Burnett worked, but did not find anything else. As such of the stolen property was as recovered as returned to the owner.

J. B. Doe, Jr., and M. G. Jeffris appeared for the boys. In order to obtain a sentence to the reform school instead of state prison, the stolen razors had to be returned. The boys would not tell the officers where they were, but told their attorneys. In getting the stuff the attorneys found other stolen property. They returned to the officers all of the property taken from the Fountain cigar store and the barber shop, and found out from the boys where the other property belonged and were going to return that to the owners without letting them know where it came from, but the boys' confession opened up the whole matter.

This morning's Recorder attempts an underhanded criticism on Mr. Jeffris, without mentioning his colleague in the case, Mr. Doe. The Recorder reports upon Mr. Doe that he did not inform the officers that the boys had stolen other property without committing a gross breach of professional duty.

THE ROYAL ARCANUM. The Election and Installation of Officers of Badger Council No. 223.

The annual meeting of Badger Council No. 223, Royal Arcanum, held last evening, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year: Regent—S. D. Conant. Vice Regent—Wm. Smith. Secretary—Robert Arms. Collector—S. O. Barnham. Treasurer—H. F. Bliss. Chaplain—James Shearer. Guide—E. W. Lowell. Warden—Luther Clark. Sentinel—A. A. Jackson. Medical Examiner—Dr. E. E. Loomis. M. M. Phelps was elected delegate to the Grand Council, and Ed. Rathern alternate.

Like the Lecture. Quite a large delegation of Janesville people went down to Beloit last night, to hear Daniel Dougherty deliver his great lecture on Orators and Oratory. It was pronounced by those who heard it to be a fine effort.

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Jennie C. Collier and Mr. W. H. Rounds—Nellie C. Slawson and D. W. Longdorf.

Miss Jennie C. Collier, of this city, and Mr. Wm. H. Rounds, of Sioux Falls, S. D., were quietly married at Trinity church at eleven o'clock this morning. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Quincy A. Curtis and a young lady well known in the city. The groom is one of the prominent citizens of Sioux Falls. The newly wedded couple took the one o'clock train for Rockford on a short wedding trip after which they will take up their abode in Sioux Falls.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. Jane Slawson, No. 214 South Main street last evening, the Rev. E. L. Estor, pastor of the Court Street E. M. church, officiating. The contracting parties were Miss Nellie C. Slawson and Mr. David W. Longdorf, of Mapleton, Iowa.

PERSONAL. Miss Mattie Clemons is visiting friends in Chicago. Hon. Daniel Johnson, of Evansville is in the city to-day. Mr. W. F. Cagle left for Milwaukee on business this morning. W. B. Stoddard is transacting business in Milwaukee to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Helms are both confined to the house by sickness. Morris O'Call, who has been dangerously sick with pneumonia, is able to sit up again. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hanson have returned after a very pleasant visit with relatives at Deerfield.

Mrs. J. B. Doe, Jr., left for Chicago this morning for a visit with relatives and friends in that city. Mr. Will Doe, of Elgin, is in the city for a short visit. He has recovered from recent illness and is looking well again.

Miss Maggie Henry, who has been seriously ill at the home of her brother, Dr. James Mills, East street, north, is now convalescent, and is able to be out again. Mr. John O. Fox, foreman of the C. M. & St. Paul Round house, is confined to the house by a gripple.

Messrs. A. A. Jackson and John Winick left for Madison this morning on business before the supreme court. S. D. Grubb left for Chicago this morning to buy goods for the Boston Clothing House. They will open for business next week.

Mrs. Clara Watson and son, of Harvard, who have been visiting Mrs. Watson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, have returned home. Hon. Daniel Dougherty came up from Beloit with the Janesville delegation last night, and left for St. Paul this morning. He stopped at the Grand.

LAI D AT REST. The funeral of Miss Jane Shelton this afternoon. The funeral of the late Miss Jane Shelton was held from the late residence at two o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. James Slidell, rector of Trinity church, officiating. At the close of the service the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

CIRCUIT COURT. The action of Gumbler against Laube still on trial. The action of Gumbler against Laube is still on trial before Judge Winslow in the circuit court. It is expected that the taking of testimony will be finished to-day. This case has been on trial for nearly two weeks.

MUNICIPAL COURT. Doings Before Judge Patterson to-day. The case of David Griffin, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, came up before Judge Patterson this morning. Griffin pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in the county jail. He is the man who shot Martin Hession in a saloon, some two weeks ago. Hession did not put in his appearance. He is getting along nicely and will soon be able to work again.

This afternoon a lone tramp was brought up by Officer McGinley. He told a strange story and the judge allowed him to go.

Death of Maurice Buckley. Died at his home No. 301 South Jackson street at four o'clock this morning, Maurice Buckley, aged seventy-four years. Mr. Buckley was an old resident of the city. His wife died several years ago. Four daughters mourn his death. Two of them, Miss Catherine and Miss Margaret reside in the city, and two in Chicago.

The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

BRIEFLETS.

Costumes for the Concordia masquerade can be procured at Wich's barber shop and the American house.

There is no better breakfast for a winter morning than breakfast cakes made from the Blue Cross flour.

Bower City Band benefit dance at Columbia Hall to-night. Tuckwood's orchestra will furnish the music, and everyone will have a good time. Tickets 50 cents.

A number from this city took in the masquerade ball at Janesville Grange Hall last evening. They report a very pleasant time. The festivities lasted until two o'clock.

Washington Camp, Patriotic Sons of America, will celebrate Washington's birthday anniversary by giving a literary and musical entertainment in one of the public halls.

There will be a business meeting of the N. O. W. Club at the armory Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Every member is requested to be present as important business will come up.

The Concordia society will give their annual masquerade ball at the hall in Mitchell's block Tuesday evening February 4th. Smith & Anderson will furnish the music. Go and have a good time.

The Terpsichorean Club gave one of their private dancing parties at Columbia hall last evening. The attendance was good, and every one enjoyed the music. Smith & Anderson furnished the music.

The Concordia Society are making arrangements for their annual masquerade at Concordia hall Tuesday evening, February 4th. Smith & Anderson's band will furnish the music. A general invitation is extended to the public.

In the circuit court of Winnebago county, Illinois, at Rockford, on Tuesday, Timothy Hayes, of Beloit, was acquitted of a charge against him of assault on Richard Garde. Hon. J. C. Garver, of Rockford, and Hon. B. M. Malone, of Beloit, appeared for the defendant.

Do you know what the Concordia annual masquerade is? Everyone will tell you that it is always the best masquerade of the year. The fun rolls about the hall in waves. Go to Wich's barber shop or the American House get a costume and take it in. It occurs Tuesday evening, February 4th.

D. H. RUST AT ROCKFORD. He Takes Part in the Burns Anniversary Celebration and Wins Honors. The Rockforders held their Burns festival on Monday evening, at which Mr. D. H. Rust, of this city, took a leading part in the exercises. The Rockford Gazette speaks of Mr. Rust as follows:

Mr. Rust, who has also the true Scotch dialect, sang "Duncan Gray and the White Cow." "Together with Miss Forbes he sang that ever welcome ditty, 'When ye gang awa' Jamie.' It was sung and acted very neatly and A. D. Robertson, next introduced and sang into his old-time frock, 'Money a time, I'd like to hear that song, but in a woman's part. But in a my life, never he it sounded better.' And the Register adds this:

H. D. Rust, the jolly Scotch insurance man who recently moved here from Janesville, was next introduced and sang "The March of the Cameron Men." Mr. Rust made himself a favorite with his first song. He has a voice of great volume and strength and he puts his whole soul into his singing in a manner to render his work most pleasing. Not content with one encore however, which Mr. Rust sang with broad deliver, the people insisted on an encore, and Miss Forbes and Mr. Rust sang a dialogue, "When ye gang awa' Jamie," which was probably the most interesting feature of the evening, both participants being commended actors as well as splendid singers.

Money Orders. Commencing Saturday, Feb. 1, and until further notice, the money-order department of the Janesville postoffice will be open continuously from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., at which time it will be closed for the day.

O. E. BOWLES, P. M. Now we have a touch of winter, the light thing for breakfast is buckwheat cakes, made from the Blue Cross flour.

REPUBLIC OF BRAZIL.

The Formal Recognition of the New Republic was Completed at the White House.

HER REPRESENTATIVES RECEIVED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The New Republic is Welcomed by Our Government—Presidential Appointments—Capital Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The formal recognition of the United States of Brazil was completed at the executive mansion, when Dr. Valente, the new minister accredited by the provisional government, and Mr. Mendonca, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, on a special mission to the United States, called and presented their credentials to President Harrison. The ceremonies took place in the blue room and were marked by great cordiality. Dr. Valente, in his address, presented the credentials of the new minister, and the President replied as follows:

"MR. MINISTER: I receive you as the representative of a new republic—always a grateful duty to the government of the United States. The peaceful course of events that has transformed the empire of Brazil into the United States of Brazil has been observed with deep interest by the government of this country. It is a source of profound satisfaction to the American people that the provisional government of Brazil has been able to maintain order and peace in the face of the most difficult circumstances. I trust this circumstance will prove a happy augury of peace, progress, and prosperity in the career of the new republic. I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am sure you will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country. I will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your government; to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two republics. I trust, Mr. Minister, that you will find in this capital a pleasant residence, as I am

